Anissa Chung, Reg. MBACP accredited, UKCP Registered Psychotherapist
MSc Integrative Psychotherapy & Counselling, Dip Supervision (SPTI)
Programme Leader: ABC Awards Counselling Concepts
Tutor: MSc Person Centred & Experiential Psychotherapy

Anissa is an experienced therapist and a qualified supervisor. She has a well-established private practice for adults and has also worked with young people in a school setting. Her approach is Integrative, with a focus on the developmental-relational model. As a trained EMDR therapist, she also works with issues of trauma. In 2010, Anissa joined the Sherwood Institute as a trainer. Her passion is to enhance personal development in both students and clients alike. She finds it exciting to accompany those who want to explore their own journey and experience the possibility of personal growth and transformation.

The course is taught by a team of qualified counselling specialists who also include:

Richard Kettley, UKCP Registered Psychotherapist, MBACP
MSc Person Centred Counselling & Psychotherapy
Tutor: ABC Awards Counselling Concepts
Programme Leader SPTI Foundation Access Course
Tutor: MSc Person Centred & Experiential Psychotherapy

Richard is a person-centred psychotherapist with experience of working in a variety of settings in Nottingham and across the county. He has recently been a Research Fellow at Nottingham Trent University on a project collaborating with the mental health charity, Mind, and is developing further research. Richard has a private counselling practice and also a long association with the local charity, ISAS. He is a Visiting Tutor on the Person-Centred Masters course at Sherwood and is delighted to be involved in the Counselling Concepts and Foundation Access courses. This brings together his twin passions for counselling and teaching, offering opportunities for further self-discovery and reflexivity.

Emma Vrijenhoef, UKCP Registered Psychotherapist
Tutor: ABC Awards Counselling Concepts
Tutor: SPTI Foundation Access Course

Emma is a psychotherapist and supervisor with a small private practice, she has experience of managing a successful counselling service in the third sector. As a tutor on the ABC Counselling Concepts and Foundation courses she particularly enjoys the opportunity to work across different therapeutic modalities. Emma has experience working with survivors of sexual violence and abuse, and she has a long-standing relationship with the work of Nottingham Women's Centre. Although Emma's initial training is in the person-centred approach she draws on systemic theories and holds a strong commitment to social change as essential to her work. Emma has a special interest in commissioning of mental health services, organisational dynamics and the impact of these on client experience. Her research interests also include collaborative approaches to assessment, note taking, and service design and evaluation.

Full payment, application form and submission of a satisfactory reference are required to secure a place on the course, as places are allocated on a first come first served basis
